Ordinance 14-22 Approved

Trustee Messer explained that the following amendments are on the Agenda because anytime a text amendment comes up, it needs to go through the entire process starting with the ZBA. The ZBA recommended against these three amendments, but they gave their recommendations to the Board and the Board can override that recommendation and can vote the other way. The Board just needs to complete the process

Horse Boarding Text Amendment Ordinance – Drury – Trustee Messer motioned to adopt Ordinance 14-23, an Ordinance amending Title 5 Zoning Regulations set forth in Chapters 2, 3, and 10 regarding Horse Boarding, the Drury Text Amendment including the language set forth in that Ordinance. Trustee Gohl seconded.

President McLaughlin motioned to table this Ordinance for the reason that he believes that any decision from this Board to take up an issue between two active litigants, will place the Village in jeopardy. Trustee Konicek seconded. Roll Call.

Ayes: 2 (Konicek, McLaughlin)

Nays: 5 (Harrington, Selman, Meroni, Messer, Gohl)

Motion Failed

President McLaughlin stated that by tabling this, it would die on the vine and so by taking pro-active measures, the Board will be placing the Village in jeopardy by taking up an issue that should not be taken in the midst of active litigation between two parties to which the Village does not have an interest, but will be should we move in this direction. Again, a motion to table would have the same effect of not passing and would not put the Village in jeopardy.

Trustee Harrington asked Attorney Bond what his position is on whether or not a village government can take action that they believe is in the best interest of the village, irrespective of any sort of litigation that is taking place in this litigious world we live in.

Attorney Bond replied that as a Village Board you can always take any action that you believe collectively, is in the best interest of the residents of the Village of Barrington Hills.

PLANNING – Colleen Konicek

Trustee Gohl recused himself because of statements he made at the Plan Commission meeting of December 8, 2014.

Plan Commission Appeal – 223 Westfield Way – This is a petition made by Mr. Hasan to the Plan Commission regarding a waiver to an agreement regarding Heritage Tree Ordinance. Mr. Hasan has a piece of property and when building on that property, a number of heritage trees were needed to be taken down. He put forth to the Village a plan and in accordance to the Heritage Tree Ordinance, we have a placement plan where the trees removed would be replaced in some manner. Mr. Hasan has now made a petition to the Plan Commission, that the number of trees that he had original agreed to, be reduced. This has gone through several hearings through the Plan Commission, there has been expert testimony by Arborists retained by Mr. Hasan and the Village. In the process, it was also determined that Mr. Hasan had taken down other heritage trees. After the hearings, testimony from the arborists, Mr. Hasan, interested parties that live along side of him, a ruling was made by the Plan Commission by a vote of 7 to 0, hereby recommends denial of Mr. Hasan's petition to waive portions of the Tree Preservation Ordinance and to adopt his recommended plan submitted for purposes and recommends that the Village require Petitioner to plant all of the trees as shown on the Doering Landscape Company Heritage Tree Replacement Plan including Ms. Pick's suggested planting locations for 11 additional 3" trees to replace the additional trees, which were removed as noted by the Village Arborist at his December 11, 2013 inspection.

President McLaughlin stated that he did meet with Mr. Hasan, the Chief Arborist in conjunction with the Chair of the Plan Commission at Mr. Hasan's request, trying to assist him in understanding that the arborists, the Plan Chair and the experts, that he should attempt to work as best as he could with them. The meeting lasted a very long time, but the meeting didn't seem to have any impact at getting the two parties together

Trustee Konicek felt that the recommendation of the Plan Commission should be accepted based on all of the factors stated and motioned to adopt the findings and recommendations of the Plan Commission and to deny the petitioner's waiver/appeal. Trustee Meroni seconded. Roll Call.
