

Recycling Changes Coming to Lake County Unincorporated Neighborhoods

There are recycling changes coming to your neighborhood. If you don't currently have recycling as part of your trash service, a new law now requires your hauler to provide recycling, along with your trash service. In an effort to increase recycling and extend the life of our landfills, the Lake County Board approved modifications to the Solid Waste Hauling and Recycling Ordinance effective January 1, 2014 making it mandatory for haulers in the unincorporated area to provide recycling containers.

This FAQ aims to answer your questions about this new requirement. Please visit www.lakecountyiil.gov/Recycle/NewLaw for more information.

Why Recycle?

Recycling helps extend the life of our landfill.

Lake County's landfills are reaching capacity, but much of the waste entering the landfill is recyclable—and it can be used for new products. If we do not increase our recycling rate and divert recyclable materials away from our landfills, we may be out of capacity by around 2024.

Recycling saves valuable natural resources.

Recycled materials use less energy and water, and create less pollution.

It's the law.

As of January 1, 2014, residents in the unincorporated area are required to have recycling service as part of their trash service and haulers are required to give customers containers for collecting recyclable materials.

The Lake County Board has a goal to divert 60% of the waste stream away from landfills by 2020. Lake County, as well as many municipalities, are adopting regulations toward achieving this goal (as recommended in the 60% Recycling Task Force Report).

Who does this impact?

Unincorporated single-family residences that do not currently have recycling as part of their trash service will now begin receiving recycling service along with their trash service as of January 1, 2014.

How much will this cost?

If you already have recycling as part of your trash service, you should not see an increase. If you do not currently have recycling as part of your service, it's estimated that the cost may be an additional $4.50 to $6 per month, depending on your hauler. (Remember, you may be billed in advance for your service, so you may see the increase this fall).
